

Boxer dogs take centre stage at Quarteira show

MEETING || Quarteira dog school Iron Dog Algarve will be hosting the 14th National Boxer Dog Meeting on Sunday (September 9), in a bid to bring together as many Boxer dogs as possible in a "laid-back atmosphere".

The event is described as an opportunity for pet owners to meet, talk and take part in a number of activities planned especially for people who love this breed.

Event organiser José Pacheco said: "We will be welcoming Juan Carlos Sanchez, the oldest Boxer breeder in the Algarve, who will be sharing his career, experience and contribution to the breed."

The meeting will also be attended by Algarve dog trainer João Paulino and two-year-old Boxer dog Echo von der Königswiese who together were victorious in the IPO1 category at the IPO ATIBOX WM world championship which took place on April 7 and 8 in Haro, La Rioja (Spain).

The pair will carry out a series of demonstrations to show off the breed's abilities beyond being "a company dog", said Pacheco.

The first Boxer dog meeting was held at the Parque da Cidade in Porto on July 19, 2015.

"Since then, we have continued hosting events all across the country and have welcomed many dogs, an average of 20-30," he said.

Pacheco explained that the idea started out as "a light-hearted, fun event, but when I noticed that there was little information about the breed, I decided to organise these events and invite experts in the field to share their knowledge".

Admission to the event costs €2, giving access to the dog school, the dog pool, training tips and a certificate.
